

Memorial Sloan Kettering Cancer Center

2018 ANNUAL Cancer Treatment-Related Adverse Events SYMPOSIUM

Focus on Immunotherapies

OCTOBER 26-27, 2018 LIVE SIMULCAST

Memorial Sloan Kettering Cancer Center

2018 MSK ANNUAL Cancer Treatment-Related Adverse Events SYMPOSIUM

Systemic anticancer therapies including cytotoxic chemotherapies, targeted therapies, and immunotherapies have resulted in improvements in patient survival. Despite this remarkable success, the majority of patients will develop toxicities of various organ systems, which may impact overall health and activities of daily living, resulting in inconsistent antineoplastic therapy, all of which may affect clinical outcome. Therefore, prevention and management of untoward events is critical for the maintenance of quality of life and the optimization of anticancer therapies.

Target Audience

The target audience includes MDs, PAs, NPs, RNs, Pharmacists, and other professionals involved in the care of cancer patients.

Educational Objectives

- Recognize the clinical presentation, impact on quality of life, and grading of treatment-related adverse events in cancer patients
- Understand mechanisms and interventions to prevent and treat acute and chronic adverse events in cancer patients and survivors
- Discuss procedures and clinical tools to assess treatment-related toxicities in cancer patients

SYMPOSIUM HIGHLIGHTS

- Therapy-related adverse events will affect the majority of patients, resulting in increased cost, inconsistent dosing, and decreased quality of life.
- With increased survival and patients living longer on therapy, adverse events affecting quality of life and clinical outcome command attention.
- This symposium provides up to date information on adverse event mechanisms and management, from specialists in the most commonly affected organ systems.
- Practical strategies to maintain patients' quality of life and dose intensity will be highlighted for the most frequently occurring events.
