Memorial Sloan Kettering Cancer Center and MediSys Health Network present

Achieving Health Equity in Cancer Care

Addressing Social Drivers of Health

COMPLIMENTARY CONFERENCE
NOVEMBER 17, 2023

Zuckerman Research Center
New York, NY

Supported by the City College of New York-Memorial Sloan Kettering Partnership Program for Cancer Research, as well as MSK's Ralph Lauren Center and the David M. Rubenstein Center for Pancreatic Cancer Research

Overview

This one-day conference will be an opportunity for researchers and all healthcare providers, including faculty, advanced practice providers, nurses, social workers, case managers, trainees, and students as well as support staff to learn about ways to address the social drivers of health and improve cancer care.

The program will consist of lectures and panel discussions with leaders in the field. The lectures will provide institutional context for health equity work, share the quality of care outcomes and metrics, and describe interventions and policies that can be used to optimize health equity. Speakers will cover topics ranging from healthcare access to patient navigation, and enrollment in clinical trials.

WHO SHOULD ATTEND

This conference is intended for all researchers, healthcare providers, and support staff with an interest in increasing health equity and is complimentary for all attendees.

EDUCATIONAL OBJECTIVES

By attending this conference, learners will be able to:

- Address social drivers of health as a way to achieve health equity
- Implement programming to support overcoming barriers to care
- Discuss SDOH impacts in the patient, caregivers and the clinical team

CONFERENCE LOCATION

This conference will be held on the campus of Memorial Sloan Kettering. Please note that this program will be held in-person only (no virtual option will be available).

Zuckerman Research Center
417 East 68th Street
New York NY 10065

Included in registration, attendees will be provided continental breakfast, lunch, and refreshment breaks.

ONLINE SYLLABUS

Attendees will receive access to a syllabus after the conference. This includes select PDF's of the faculty presentations (slides) and video recordings of the lectures.
