Bridging Treatment to Transplant and Current Advances

In 1956 the first bone marrow transplant was performed by E. Donnell Thomas in Cooperstown, New York. The first successful bone marrow transplant was performed by Dr. Robert Good for a patient with severe combined immunodeficiency syndrome. From a rarely performed procedure, now more than 10000 transplants are performed yearly in the United States as treatment for more than 70 life threatening illnesses including cancers, genetic disorders, and other diseases.

This symposium will focus on hematopoietic stem cell transplantation from different sources as a first line treatment for a variety of malignant or non malignant disorders. Speakers will discuss bridging initial treatment to transplant, barriers to transplantation and current advances in the field.

TARGET AUDIENCE

The target audience includes physicians, nurses, and social workers: oncologists, hematologists, and disease specific specialists

EDUCATIONAL OBJECTIVES

- Recognize the importance of early referral
- Understand new transplant techniques that have led to improvement in outcomes
- Establish treatment strategies that link pre-transplant and transplant therapies

The Bone Marrow Foundation, founded in 1992, is dedicated to improving the quality of life for bone marrow, stem cell, and cord blood transplant patients and their families by providing vital financial assistance, comprehensive resources, educational information, physician referrals, and emotional support programs. Transplants treat more than 70 life-threatening illnesses including cancers, genetic disorders, and other diseases. The Bone Marrow Foundation is the only organization of its kind that does not limit assistance to a specific disease, type of transplant, or age range. All of the Foundation's programs and services are offered to patients and their families free of charge.

For more information on The Bone Marrow Foundation's programs, please visit: www.bonemarrow.org

NMDP/Be The Match is the global leader in providing a cure to patients with life-threatening blood and marrow cancers like leukemia and lymphoma, as well as other diseases. We manage the world's largest registry of potential marrow donors and cord blood units, connect patients to their donor match for a life-saving marrow or umbilical cord blood transplant and educate health care professionals and patients. We conduct research through our research program, CIBMTR® (Center for International Blood and Marrow Transplant Research®), in collaboration with Medical College of Wisconsin.
