Raising the Bar in Pediatric Survivorship Care and Research

A one-day complimentary symposium honoring
Charles A. Sklar, MD

Friday, April 1, 2022
Rockefeller Research Laboratories
New York, NY

Memorial Sloan Kettering
Cancer Center

Welcome

We invite you to join us at Rockefeller Research Laboratories on Friday, April 1, 2022, for this one-day complimentary symposium honoring Charles A. Sklar, MD, which will provide a comprehensive overview of the history of and current standards of pediatric survivorship care and research. Themes will include a history of survivorship research, endocrine late effects of childhood cancer therapy, and MSK's survivorship program and progress. There will also be opportunities for discussion and collaboration for the future directions of survivorship research. A virtual option is available if you are unable to join us in person.

This symposium is intended for physicians and healthcare professionals interested in pediatric oncology survivorship, comorbidities, and long-term care. Registration for this symposium is complimentary for all attendees.

Safety Precautions Due to COVID-19

The MSK CME team is closely monitoring the impact of COVID-19 on our ability to host in-person events. We thank you for your cooperation as we work together to meet the challenges posed by COVID-19. All registrants will be notified if there are any changes including a switch to a virtual only format. Your health and safety, and that of our patients and employees, is our highest priority.

COVID-19 Health & Safety Protocol for MSK CME In-person Events

- All in person attendees at MSK CME events must be fully vaccinated against COVID-19 at least two (2) weeks prior to the event.
- A copy of your COVID-19 vaccination card(s) must be uploaded during registration. MSK Employees will need to show MSK ID Badge with COVID-19 Vaccine sticker attached to gain entry to event space in lieu of uploading vaccine card(s).
- All in person attendees, including presenters, are required to wear masks at all times in the conference space and at all MSK locations (regardless of vaccination status).
- Social Distancing guides in the conference space must be followed and will be strictly enforced.
