Overview

The use of pelvic MRI for staging and restaging rectal cancer in routine clinical practice continues to grow due to extensive evidence that it impacts clinical outcomes. Join us in New York City on Thursday, November 10, for our 2022 Hands-On Rectal MRI Workshop, which will provide you with an opportunity to learn or brush up on fundamental rectal MRI skills, including:

- How to interpret baseline rectal MRI
- How to interpret re-staging MRI
- How to avoid pitfalls

Each attendee will receive a dedicated workstation and a variety of rectal MRI cases of different stages and clinical scenarios to work through. A course manual with reproduced images and arrows serves as a guide to all cases. Pearls and Pitfalls will be emphasized. Post-treatment restaging cases will be plentiful as this is more commonly performed and requires experience to interpret properly. Mini-lectures are interspersed throughout the day by expert faculty, including guest faculty.

Educational Objectives

By attending this workshop, attendees will be able to:

- Perform high-quality MRI of the pelvis for rectal and anal cancer evaluation
- Interpret baseline staging MRI for rectal and anal cancer
- Interpret post-treatment, restaging MRI for rectal cancer
- Discuss the value of synoptic/structured reports for rectal and anal cancer

Who Should Attend

The workshop is intended for practicing radiologists, radiologists in training, and anyone with an interest in pelvic MRI.

We are excited to welcome attendees back to New York City for this hands-on workshop.

DATE Thursday, November 10, 2022

LOCATION Zuckerman Research Center
417 East 68th Street
New York, NY

Please note that this program will be held in-person only.

We make every effort to provide a safe and welcoming environment for attendees of our in-person CME events. All in-person attendees must be vaccinated against COVID-19.
