RECTAL MRI WORKSHOP

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 9, 2017
Zuckerman Research Center, New York City

One Workstation Per Participant - Space is limited!

Includes Complimentary Registration to the Colorectal Centennial Symposium

In Conjunction with the Memorial Sloan Kettering Cancer Center
2nd Annual Advances in Colorectal Oncology Series
The use of pelvic MRI in routine clinical practice is growing rapidly, mainly due to the extensive literature supporting its clinical value and expanding clinical indications. This hands-on course will offer the opportunity to learn or brush up on rectal MRI skills. Short lectures and whole case reviews on individual workstations will demonstrate the pearls and pitfalls in the evaluation of rectal MRI performed for staging and follow up evaluations. Hands on review of cases will be intermixed with short didactic lectures. (One workstation per participant.)

TARGET AUDIENCE
This educational activity is designed for practicing radiologists and radiologists in training as well as anyone with an interest in pelvic MRI.

EDUCATIONAL OBJECTIVES

- Become familiar with rectal MRI indications, acquisition protocols and the normal appearance of male and female pelvic structures as visualized by MRI
- Identify abnormal findings on rectal MRI scans and understand the relevance of these findings to patient care
- Recognize the imaging characteristics of treated rectal cancers and the evolution of findings during non-operative surveillance MRI exams
- Appreciate the value of structured reporting and a standardized lexicon in pelvic MRI
